...dge Favrot Kills Dr. Aldrich at Baton Rouge.

...LENT IN REGARD TO TRAGEDY

...e Only Says that He Killed for "Sufficient Reasons"—The Judge Was Elected to Congress Tuesday—Pistol in Aldrich's Pocket,

Baton Rouge, La., Nov. 9.—Democratic Congressman-elect Judge Geo. ... Favrot, of this city, without warning shot and instantly killed his lifelong associate and former schoolmate Dr. H. H. Aldrich, one of the best known citizens of Baton Rouge.

Though hundreds of persons were near the scene of the shooting, none knew what passed between the two men. Judge Favrot refused to talk, beyond letting it be known that the matter was a private quarrel.

The shooting occurred opposite the Istrouma hotel, out of which at that moment a crowd of society women was pouring, having left a reception. Among these women were the mother and sister-in-law of Judge Favrot.

Almost the entire population of the state capital heard of the tragedy, and was on the streets in great excitement within the next half hour following the shooting. Judge Favrot was arrested, being taken to the jail in the building where he himself had held court that day, and had fined a prisoner on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

A coroner's jury, which was convened immediately after the shooting, failed to learn the cause of the shooting. Its verdict was simply that Dr. Aldrich was killed by Judge Favrot.

Judge Favrot is 38 years old, and is regarded as one of the most brilliant young men of Louisiana. In the recent democratic primaries he defeated for the nomination S. M. Robertson, who had been a representative in congress for 20 years. Judge Favrot had been walking along the street chatting with friends, but left the party opposite the hotel, and entered the doors of the Raymond building. Almost immediately those outside heard three shots. Judge Favrot emerged from the building with a revolver in his hand.

Dr. Aldrich was found near the entrance with two bullet holes in his neck. In a front pocket of his trousers there was found a revolver which, apparently, had not been fired.

District Attorney Wax, one of the witnesses to the shooting, asked Judge Favrot why he shot Dr. Aldrich and the judge replied that he did it for sufficient reasons. He started for the jail to surrender himself, and was met on the way there by the sheriff.

After the coroner's inquest, Judge Favrot made preparations to spend the night in jail. He still maintains silence as to the cause of the shooting, and Dr. Aldrich's friends did not clear up the mystery.

Judge Favrot's election Tuesday was almost unanimous. Only 9 votes being cast against him in Baton Rouge.

Large Fur Robbery.

New York, Nov. 9.—One of the largest fur robberies the police have had to deal with in months, occurred some time between midnight Sunday and day break Monday morning, when several men broke into the store of Harris & Co., and carted off in a truck at least $15,000 or $20,000 worth of furs. The police have been working on the case for two days, but have made no arrests. The goods are all secretely marked and the police think they will get the thieves when they try to dispose of their stolen booty. The fur trade has been notified.

Milton, aged 54 years, vice president of the Knoxville Sentinel company, died Wednesday night as the direct result of a stroke of paralysis suffered last Monday night. He was father of G. F. TO SERVE LONG SENTENCE.

Supreme Court Refuses New Trial to Wall, Who Killed Stalnaker.

Atlanta, Nov. 9.—The supreme court Wednesday rendered a number of decisions in criminal cases recently argued. About the only one among them of any special interest is that in the case of James S. Wall versus the State, from Augusta, which is affirmed with the result that Wall will have to spend ten years in the state penitentiary for voluntary manslaughter.

Wall killed Charles W. Stalnaker, a former United States deputy marshal for the southern district of Georgia, in a barroom row in Augusta, on May 3, 1906. There were extenuating circumstances in the case, the homicide, it appears, having been the result of a sudden passion, and he was convicted of manslaughter, his sentence being ten years. His defense was conducted in part by his brother, Beverly Wall, an Atlanta attorney. There were 43 grounds of error in the bill of exceptions on which the appeal was taken to the supreme court, and that tribunal overruled every one of them in the decision as handed down.

Grimes is Found Guilty.

Alpharetta, Ga., Nov. 9.—John Alexander Grimes was found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Evelyn McGinnis, at Roswell, and sentenced to life imprisonment. This occurred in the superior court in session at this place. The crime for which Grimes has been convicted was committed last June and was one of the most shocking tragedies that ever occurred here. Grimes was in love with Mrs. McGinnis, a widow, with whom he boarded, and because she refused to elope with him he shot her while she was preparing breakfast. He then fled to his own home and after begging members of his family to kill him, attempted to take his own life, but was unsuccessful in the attempt. Later he was captured and confined in jail.

$400 Reward Now Offered.

Camilla, Ga., Nov. 9.—Coroner Lastinger in a verdict in the case of Meta Hicks of death occasioned by an unknown party. Meta Hicks is the reputed wife of Jet Hicks, who so brutally murdered John Akridge last Saturday night. Meta was found dead in a field belonging to Mr. Akridge. There was no evidence on her body of violence except two bullets, either of which would have caused death. J. L. Palmer has received a telegram from the Hon. J. M. Terrell stating that the state of Georgia offers a reward of $150 for the arrest with evidence to convict Jet Hicks. This, with the reward which Mr. Palmer offers, makes $400.

Possible Successor to Durand.

Washington, Nov. 9.—Lord Curzon, former viceroy of India, is mentioned in diplomatic circles as a possible successor to Sir Henry Mortimer Durand, the British ambassador to the United States, who is to give up his post and retire from the British diplomatic service next spring. The fact that Lord Curzon is now on the sea between Great Britain and this country, and has announced that he will visit in this country for some time, lends color to the rumor of his appointment to the Washington post. Lord Curzon is accompanied by Mrs. Leiter, the mother of Lady Curzon, who died some time ago.

$161,000,000 Water System.

New York, Nov. 9.—The first steps to begin the actual construction of the city's new $161,000,000 water system was taken Wednesday when bids were asked for the building of the first section of the huge aqueduct 10 miles in length. Four years are allowed for the completion of this section and bids must be received by December 4. It is estimated that the cost of the first section will be about $5,000,000. The first section of the aqueduct begins at Hunter's brook in Westchester, and goes to a point just beyond Peekskill.

Found Dead in Bed.

Athens, Ga., Nov. 9.—Mr. Hodge Conger, of Franklin county, formerly county surveyor, was found dead in his room at the home of his brother-in-law, Joseph W. Woods, of this city. Heart trouble was the cause of his death.

BOY GOVERNOR OF KENTUCKY WINS RACE

Beckham Defeats McCreary In Race for Senate.

BECKHAM NAMED BY KENTUCKY

He Is Only 37 Years Old and Is the Youngest Governor in the United States and Will Be Youngest Member of the U. S. Senate.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 8.—With but a few mountain counties to hear from and these probably increasing his lead, Governor Beckham has almost certainly won his fight against Senator McCreary for the nomination for the United States senatorship in the Democratic primary. The governor's majority will be about 4,000.

Samuel W. Hager was nominated for governor in the same primary by a majority of between 12,000 and 15,000, the nomination for attorney general going to John K. Hendricks. Although Senator McCreary carried Louisville by 7,287, Governor Beckham ran so well in the country that he overcame this lead, and now has a total of 4,000 votes to spare.

The complexion of Kentcky's representation in congress shows some change, the republicans gaining two congressmen, giving them a total of four in the lower house.

The new members are Dr. A. D. James, of the third, and John W. Langley in the tenth. Don C. Edwards in the eleventh district, and Joseph B. Bennett, in the ninth, republicans, were elected.

John Crepps Wickliffe Beckham, governor of Kentucky, whose nomination in the primary in succession to United States Senator McCreary is equivalent to an election, enjoys the distinction of having been the youngest governor in the United States. At the time of his election he was 30 years old and is now 37. When he takes his seat in the United States senate he will be the youngest member of that body.

He was speaker of the Kentucky house of representatives in 1898. In 1899 he was nominated for lieutenant governor on the ticket with William Goebel. On the face of the returns he was defeated by John Marshall, of Louisville. He contested the election, and before the contest was decided Mr. Goebel was assassinated. Mr. Beckham was thereupon inaugurated governor. In 1900 he defeated John W. Yerkes for governor, and in 1903 he defeated Colonel M. B. Belknap, of Louisville.

Moody Named for High Court.

Washington, Nov. 8.—The president has announced the appointment of Attorney General William Henry Moody, of Massachusetts, as justice of the supreme court of the United States to succeed Justice Henry B. Brown, who retired some time ago. Mr. Moody has filled the office of attorney general since July 1, 1904. Previous to that time he had served for more than two years as secretary of the navy. He had also represented his state in the fifty-fourth, fifty-fifth, fifty-sixth and fifty-seventh congresses. It is generally expected that Mr. Moody will retire from the department of justice the latter part of December.

Report Positively Denied.

New York, Nov. 8.—John W. Gates, principal owner of the New York Hippidrome and Messrs. Shubert and Anderson, managers of the play house, positively denied a printed report that Shubert and Anderson would retire from the management of the Hippodrame. On the contrary, they are making preparations to produce, Nov. 25 another elaborate spectacle and have a ten years' lease upon the building.

Count Witte Sentenced to Death.

Moscow, Nov. 8.—A report was in circulation here that the league to "Combat the Revolution," to which the murder of Deputy Herzenstein, in Finland last summer, has been ascribed, had sentenced the former premier, Count Witte, to death in the event of his return to Russia.

TWO KILLED IN BUGGY.

Former Policeman Kills Two Alabama Constables.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 9.—Shortly after noon Wednesday at North Birmingham, a suburb, George Jost, a former policeman, shot and killed Constable Hamilton, and at the same time fatally wounded William Thompson, a deputy sheriff.

Hamilton and Thompson were driving in a buggy along the principal street of the town when Jost lifted a shotgun and fired at Hamilton. The charge passed entirely through the constable's body and then entered the body of Thompson, who is dying.

Jost surrendered. He says he did not intend to wound Thompson, but was after Hamilton. On Tuesday at the election polls, where Jost was a watcher, he and Hamilton had a quarrel when Hamilton attempted to go behind the ropes. Jost claims that Hamilton attacked him and beat him on the head with the butt of a heavy revolver. The shooting is the sequel.

Will Have Wind Anchors.

New York, Nov. 9.—The Singer building, now building on Broadway, near Liberty street, which will be 625 feet high, the tallest skyscraper in the city, is to have wind anchors so that it may be firmly braced against every gale. The wind pressure, on account of the structure's great altitude, will be tremendous, and for that reason the building is to be literally tied to its foundations by an ingenious arm of steel arteries. They will be 3½ inches in diameter and descend nearly 50 feet into the concrete which forms the caissons, resting on solid rock, 85 feet below the curb. The arm is to have at the end of it, a great anchor plate imbedded in the rock.

Peary Will Make Another Trial.

New York, Nov. 9.—Mrs. Robert E. Peary, wife of the Arctic explorer, is sure that her husband will make another try to find the pole, according to a Portland, Me., dispatch to the World. Mrs. Peary has just returned to Portland, and is awaiting word from Commander Peary where she is to join him. "I hope and sincerely believe my husband has not given up the fight to reach the north-pole and when he goes again I shall go with him as far as I can." Mrs. Peary is quoted as saying: "If he can get within 200 miles of the goal I am sure that he is not going to give up, and I know he will be able to win out if he tries again."

Charged with Murder.

London, Nov. 9.—Carl Stau, alias Hau, described as a lawyer of Washington, was arraigned at the Bow street police court for extradition to Germany on the charge of murdering his mother-in-law at Baden Baden. The prisoner declared that the charge was due to a misunderstanding and asked the magistrate to send him to Germany immediately for trial and he has been remanded pending the arrival of evidnce. Stau's wife and child were with him at the hotel Cecil here when he was arrested. The police found a loaded revolver and $1,400 on the person of the prisoner.

Puts a Bullet in His Brain.

Columbus, Ga., ov. 9.—News has reached the city of the tragic death at Uhland, 20 miles west of here, Levi Arrant, who took his own life by firing a bullet into his brain. The man, it is said, endeavored to secure to do so, got his gun from a negro, and failing to do so, got his own pistol, went into the yard, placed the muzzle of the weapon to his forehead, and sent the bullet crashing into his brain. The cause of the rash act is not known, but it is said that it was due to his having become heavily involved financially, and that he had grown despondent.

Negress Buried Beside Mistress.

New York, Nov. 9.—Mary Jane Williams, a negro servant, who changed job only once during her 70 years' of service, was buried beside her mistress, the late Gertrude Lefferts Vanderbilt, the authoress, on the Vanderbilt plot in Greenwood cemetery. When Mrs. Vanderbilt died four years ago she asked that the old negress be interred beside her and Mrs. Vanderbilt's family saw that the request was carried out.

DEATH OF BOYD PAID ELECTION WAGER

Was Supporter of Taylor For Congress From

THE FIRST TENNESSEE DISTRICT

Made a Wager that If Taylor Was Defeated, He Would Die and Be Buried—Taylor's Defeat Was Followed by His Death Outright.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 9.—A special to the Sentinel from Jonesboro, Tenn., in the first congressional district, says:

The remains of Ed Boyd were carried through Main street to the cemetery east of town Wednesday. The body was on a litter. Boyd was one of the loudest men in Washington county in support of A. A. Taylor, for congress. He was so confident of Taylor's election that he made a wager that as a forfeiture he would die and be buried if W. P. Brownlow was re-elcted.

Taylor's defeat by an overwhelming majority was followed by Boyd's death outright.

The pallbearers, headed by a brass band, and a large crowd of mourners, proceeded to perform the funeral obsequies over Boyd's remains.

Awarded Medal of Honor.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt has awarded a medal of honor to Edward Murray, a conductor on the Pennsylvania Railroad, who risked his own life to save the lives of two children, Robert and Margaret Lewis, in Pittsburg, Pa., on Jan. 22 last. Murray previously received a Carnegie Medal for the same act of heroism. The two children, aged 2 and 4 years, respectively, stepped on the railroad track in the way of an engine running backwards and pulling a string of cars. Murray was riding on the footboard of the tender and he sprang forward, grasped the children in his arms and regained the footboard of the engine. The medal is the fourth award since the passage of the act authorizing this national recognition of acts of bravery by trainmen.

Purchase Rome Electric Railway.

Rome, Ga., Nov. 9.—Louisville, Ky., capitalists headed by Attilla Cox, Jr., and S. S. Rusch have purchased the Rome City Electric Railway and Lighting plant from J. L. Bass. The purchase price including contemplated improvements will be $300,000. The purchase will carry with it a twenty-five year franchise valued by Mr. Bass at $40,000, but which he received as a gratituous concession from the city three years ago. It is given out that the actual consideration in the transfer of the railway and lighting company will be $175,000.

Powder Magazine Explodes.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—A powder magazine owned by the E. I. DuPont company, and situated at Linley park, about 30 miles from this city, exploded with such terrific force that windows were broken in the home of the Midlothian club three miles distant. One manfi who was employed to watch the magazine, was killed but no other lives were lost. The magazine was a small affair and contained a comparatively small amount of blasting powder. The cause of the explosion is not known.

GAINESVILLE FURNITURE COMPANY.....

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines In a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent, or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

WHILE RESISTING ARREST NEGRO IS KILLED

Tragedy Near Pineville in Which Frank McLain Lost Life.

KILLED BY MAN HE ROBBED

Broke Into Home of Will Robinson and Took Everything of Value He Could Find—In Attempting to Kill Robinson He Was Himself Killed.

While attempting to evade arrest near Pineville, between Newberry and Palmer, in a small swamp, Frank McLain, a negro, was shot and instantly killed by Will Robinson, a man of his own race whom he had robbed, in in the late forenoon of Friday

On Wednesday night McLain entered the home of Robinson at Pineville during the later's absence and completely looted the house, taking everything of value that could be found on the place. Upon leaving the house he was identified by some person passing, who told Robinson of the theft, and explained that it was McLain who entered the home.

Robinson went to Newberry and notified Deputy Sheriff Geo. W. Livingston. He accompanied the officer to Pineville for the purpose of identifying McLain, and McLain was spotted, but as soon as he ascertained that the officer was after him made an attempt to escape. He made a dash for a small hammock, or swamp, near the scene where he was discovered, and Officer Livingston, who was driving, gave Robinson a small parlor rifle and commanded him to follow the negro. Robinson followed him a short distance into the "scrub," when it is stated McLain drew a 38-caliber pistol and attempted to kill Robinson, when the latter fired at close range, two balls of the rifle penetrating his body and killing him instantly.

Justice Henderson of Newberry was informed of the tragedy. He made an investigation, released Robinson and exonerated the officer.

A GREAT SUCCESS WILL REUNION BE

Elaborate Preparations to Entertain the Veterans.

THE COMMITTEES ARE BUSY

All Arrangements For Entertaining the Large Number of Delegates to the State Encampment, U. C. V., Are Nearly Completed.

As the time draws near for the sixteenth annual encampment of the Florida Division, United Confederate Veterans, interest among the local camp, Stonewall Camp, the members of both Chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy, and the citizens generally, increases. It is proposed to make this encampment one of the most successful in the history of the State, and interest is being manifested by the Veterans in every section of the State. The Veterans are anticipating with a great deal of pleasure the coming together of the survivors of the Lost Cause, and it is needless to add that the occasion will be one which will be long remembered. The rank and file of the Confederacy is becoming more diminished every year, the Veterans one by one being summoned to the great beyond.

General Lee Invited.

General Stephen D. Lee, Commander-in-Chief of the United Confederate Veterans, has been invited by the Second Division, U. C. V., to attend the reunion as the guest of the division, and it is hoped he will honor the encampment and the city by his presence. The invitation was extended through Brigadier-General J. C. Davant, Brooksville, commanding the Second Brigade.

It is hoped that all the distinguished Confederate Veterans now in command of the United Confederate Veterans will attend, as elaborate preparations are being made to entertain them.

G. A. R. Invited.

In addition to having extended an invitation to the Daughters of the Confederacy, the Sons of Confederate Veterans, Stonewall Camp has cordially invited members of Lew Wallace Post, G. A. R., as well as other posts throughout the State, to join them in the festivities of good fellowship upon the occasion of this reunion. It is probable that Lew Wallace Post will affiliate with the Veterans, and that other G. A. R. posts of the State will send representatives. As far as can be learned, this is the first time the "boys in blue" have ever been invited to mingle with the "boys in gray" upon a similar occasion.

U. D. C. Busy.

Both local chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy have busied themselves for the past few days in making preparations to entertain the visitors. Kirby Smith Chapter will tender a reception on the evening of the 13th, and J. J. Finley Chapter will also exercise themselves in the entertainment of the Veterans. The ladies are deeply interested in the pleasure and comfort of the old soldiers, and they propose to demonstrate this by their hospitality towards them.

Arrangements Nearly Complete.

Commander Horatio Davis of Stonewall Camp states that arrangements have been completed for the entertainment of the visitors, and assures the public that the occasion will be one which will go down in history as one of Gainesville's gala occasions. The committee of arrangements have been hard at work in completing their part of the program. The committee on reception, the committee on soliciting—and in fact all committees have labored earnestly for the success of the reunion, which they feel will be the biggest success of the kind ever held in the State.

Adjutant-General's Orders.

Adjutant General A. D. Williams of the Second Brigade, Florida Division, U. C. V., has issued the following orders:

"Headquarters Second Brigade, Florida Division, United Confederate Veterans.

"Brooksville, Fla., Oct. 25, 1906.

"General Orders No. 5.

"1. General Orders No. 7, issued from Division Headquarters, announces the Sixteenth Annual Encampment of the Florida Division, United Confederate Veterans, to be held at Gainesville on November 13-14, 15th.

"2. The brigadier-general commanding, announces with much pleasure that the annual encampment of the Second Brigade will be held at the same time and place.

"All camps are urged to send full delegations.

"One delegate for each camp and one for every twenty members or fraction thereof. Provided each camp in good standing is entitled to at least two delegates.

"3. All camps in arrears for brigade dues of three cents per capita are urged to promptly remit their dues to the adjutant-general of the brigade, so that their delegates may be allowed to participate in the work of the convention.

"4. A low rate of one cent per mile plus twenty-five cents for the round-trip has been generously tendered by the transportation companies.

"5. Gainesville, as a city noted for the public spirit and generous hospitality of its citizens, has joined with the local camp to extend a cordial welcome to Confederate Veterans, the Sons of Confederate Veterans, and the Daughters of the Confederacy to be present upon this occasion.

"6. The brigadier-general commanding, desires to impress upon every Confederate soldier, every Son of a Confederate soldier, and the Daughters of the Confederacy, the importance of attending these annual reunions, that bring us together in closer association and encourages the accomplishment of the object of our organization.

"By command of Brig.-Gen. J. C. Davant. A. D. WILLIAMS,
"Adjutant-General and Chief-of-Staff."

THE DYNAMITER.

He Must Be a Man of Many Parts, With Nerve and Coolness.

In an article on "Dynamite; the Power Untamable," Samuel Hopkins Adams thus describes the man who handles the explosive and his ways:

"The finished type of the dynamiter is the man who has had the ability to rise and the luck to survive long enough to graduate from the plant and become an agent. In his best embodiment the explosive agent is something of a chemist, something of a quarryman, something of an electrician, a good deal of a mineralogist and above all a man of resource and coolness. It is he who does the exploding. The factory gets notice from a railroad that a contract is open for the destruction of a ledge of rock which blocks their line of advance. Away goes the agent, with his gripsack full of ready made destruction, to look the thing over. First he draws upon his mineralogic lore to determine the nature of the rock. If it is very hard he uses a high grade of his explosive, which delivers a quick, shattering blow. In case of soft rock the lower grade supplies a blast which will produce a wider effect, although it will not break the dislodged rock into such small pieces. Next as a quarryman he considers the nature of the ledge and the indicated fissures or veins and plans his drilling accordingly. Then he must attend to the drilling of the holes, the tamping of the charge and—here his electrical knowledge is called for—the arrangement of the batteries. After a few blasts he gives the railroad company his estimate, and if it is accepted he may oversee the job himself.

"Often he meets his rivals on the ground. Then comes the tug of war. Tricks of the trade are many and not all of them scrupulous. Where many agents are gathered together it seems to be a point of honor with every man to handle his particular article with the utmost apparent carelessness, while he manifests a shrinking timidity toward the products of his competitors. This is to impress the outsider. So the agent will toss about a twenty-five pound package of dynamite like so much meal, kick it, drop it over fences or down ledges and generally maltreat it. If the dynamite is fresh this is all right, but occasionally something goes wrong, and theory, together with the theorist, is blown to atoms in practice. Theoretically a high explosive should detonate only when set off by means of a fulminate of mercury cap, and some of the safety explosives apparently live up to this. But anything with nitroglycerin in it is best treated with consideration, for nitro is a very uncertain quantity."

STAIN REMOVERS.

Grass Stains.—Alcohol or molasses.

Blood Stains.—Soak in cold soapsuds to which a little kerosene has been added.

Fresh Paint.—Try kerosene, vaseline or machine oil; then wash with soap and cold water.

Ink Stains.—Dip into boiling water, spread over a basin, rub well with salts of sorrel; then rinse thoroughly.

Wine Stains.—Sprinkle thickly with salt while still wet. If dried wet with boiling water, rub thoroughly with salt and pour boiling water through.

Rust.—Wet in cold water, spread on the grass; then apply to each spot ordinary table salt wet with lemon juice. As fast as it dries renew the application. As soon as the stain is removed rinse thoroughly.

Indelible Ink.—Soak in a solution of common salt; then wash with diluted ammonia. Rinse well. Javelle water and a solution of oxalic acid will also remove indelible ink. Rinsing must follow immediately and thoroughly.

For American Citizens.

When the visitor approached the diplomatic gallery of the senate chamber the doorkeeper informed him, says a writer in the Philadelphia Ledger, that the gallery was reserved for foreign representatives.

"It is, hey?" said the visitor. "Well, I want to tell you right now that this is a free country, and this is the senate of the United States, and I demand admission in the name of American citizenship."

"Oh!" said the doorkeeper. "Why didn't you say at first that you were an American citizen? Just step around to the second door from here. That gallery is reserved for Americans citizens."

With chest puffed up the stranger betook himself to the door indicated and was at once admitted to the public gallery.

Boldness is ever blind, therefore it is ill in counsel, but good in execution.—Bacon.

WEATHER CHIEF TO BE REBUKED

Roosevelt to Reprimand Moore for Meddling in Union Labor Matter.

Washington, Nov. 9.—President Roosevelt has directed that a reprimand be administered to Willis L. Moore, chief of the weather bureau, for his action in the case of a printer named Cooper, in his office, who had been expelled from the Typographical union for not paying his strike assessments.

Mr. Moore, it is alleged, urged Cooper on two occasions to pay his assessments, but the latter refused and he was expelled from the union. Following this, Cooper was transferred to New Orleans, and he claimed that this action, on the part of Moore, was intended as a punishment for him for not complying with the demands of the Typographical union.

The matter was referred to the civil service commission, which without reporting on the question of whether or not Cooper's transfer was intended as a punishment, held that Mr. Moore's action in urging payment of the strike assessments was improper. Under the circumstances the commission expressed the opinion that Cooper's transfer would not be for the good of the service, as this would give the impression that it was intended as a punishment.

For Storm Sufferers.

Atlanta, Nov. 9.—State Treasurer R. E. Park, who was recently designated to receive subscriptions for the relief of the storm sufferers on the coast of Alabama as the result of the recent hurricane which swept that section, received the first contribution Wednesday of $5 from S. P. Richards, of Atlanta. This is in response to the appeal which recently came to Governor Terrell from J. A. Joullian, of Coden, Ala., president of the Coden-Bayou la Batre Relief association, formed for the purpose of extending relief to the sufferers in that section from the recent terrible storm on the coast of Alabama.

Made Happy For Life.

Great happiness came into the home of S. C. Blair, school superintendent at St. Albans, W. Va., when his little daughter was restored from the dreadful complaint he names. He says: "My little daughter had St. Vitus' dance, which yielded to no treatment but grew steadily worse, until as a last resort we tried Electric Bitters, and I rejoice to say, three bottles effected a complete cure." Quick, sure cure for nervous complaints, general debility, female weaknesses, impoverished blood and malaria. Guaranteed by all drug stores. Price, 50c.

MRS. HENRIETTA MARSH.

A VICTIM OF LA GRIPPE.

Mrs. Henrietta A. S. Marsh, 769 W. 16th St., Los Angeles, Cal., President Woman's Benevolent Ass'n, writes:

"I suffered with la grippe for seven weeks, and nothing I could do or take helped me until I tried Peruna.

"I felt at once that I had at last secured the right medicine and I kept steadily improving. Within three weeks I was fully restored, and I am glad that I gave that truly great remedy a trial. I will never be without it again."

In a letter dated August 31, 1904, Mrs. Marsh says: "I have never yet heard the efficacy of Peruna questioned. We still use it. I traveled through Kentucky and Tennessee three years ago, where I found Peruna doing its good work. Much of it is being used here also."—Henrietta A. S. Marsh.

Kehl Is Insane.

New York, Nov. 9.—A Panama special to the Herald says German Kehl, who in 1903 tried to gain admission to the white house with the declared purpose of killing President Roosevelt, arrived in Panama from Chile and was put under arrest. Physicians declared him insane. He will be sent back to Chile. There are a number of secret service men now on the Ishmus to look after the safety of Mr. Roosevelt. For weeks the canal zone police and detectives have kept close tab on all arrivals at ports between Panama and Colon.

Always Was Sick.

When a man says he always was sick, troubled with a cough that lasted all winter—what would you think if he should say he never was sick since using Ballard's Horehound Syrup? Such a man exists. Mr. J. C. Clark, Denver, Colorado, writes: 'For years I was troubled with a severe cough that would last all winter. This cough left me in a miserable condition. I tried Ballard's Horehound Syrup and have not had a sick day since. That's what it did for me.' Sold by W. M. Johnson.

Lehman, special counsel, to begin proceedings against the person or persons believed to be implicated in the recent embezzlement of $61,500 from th sub-treasury at St. Louis. It is not thought that the names of any one supposed to be guilty of the theft has been mentioned in the instructions to Mr. Lehman.

Will Represent Packingtown.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—James T. McDermott, the friend of almost every one in the populous stock yards district because, as those who know him say, "his head is on the level and his heart is on the square," will represent Packingtown in the next congress. He began life as a messenger boy, picked up telegraphy and left the key to begin the campaign which won for him a seat in the national house of representatives. He is 34 years old, and a Democrat.

Hughes' Election Fortunate.

New York, Nov. 9.—A Baltimore special to the Times quotes Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte as saying: "It is very fortunate that Mr. Hughes has been elected in New York, but the strength of his opponent as shown by the election, is rather ominous and proves to my mind that we must be prepared to deal with the questions he has been agitating in a spirit at once liberal and conservative."

There is No Reason

Why your baby should be thin, and fretful during the night. Worms are the cause of thin, sickly babies. It is natural that a healthy baby should be fat and sleep well. If your baby does not retain its food, don't experiment with colic cures and other medicine, but try a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, and you will soon see your baby have color and laugh as it should. CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair, too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ, leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co. Detroit, Mich.

RAN BEHIND HIS TICKET.

Mr. Hearst ran more than 50,000 votes behind his ticket. An analysis of the returns will probably show that the Democrats who scratched him did so for one personal reason and another, says The Savannah News. Some are opposed to his journalistic methods, others are hostile to the man himself, and still others fought him because he fought them on some previous occasion. Mayor McClellan of Greater New York has a pretty big following and all his influence was thrown against him. McCarren of Brooklyn is another Democratic leader who controls many votes. All he could do to defeat Mr Heart was done. And there were Democrats of lesser note who had old scores to pay off. The delegates to the Democratic Convention at Buffalo who were unseated to make room for contesting delegates who were necessary to give Mr. Hearst the Democratic nomination for Governor, doubtless were active agents in bringing about his defeat. And there were Independence League men who were disgruntled because ther ticket was knocked to pieces in order to make room for the men who had to be taken care of in accordance with the understanding between Mr. Murphy and Mr. Hearst.

Taking into account the fact that the press of Greater New York, with the exception of the Hearst papers, were against Mr. Hearst and also remembering the dissatisfaction in the ranks of the Democratic party and the Independence League, it must be admitted that he made a remarkably strong run. He was heavily handicapped by dissension and opposition in his own parties and in addition to that he was pitted against a Republican who had made a record in the life insurance investigations and against whom nothing could be said.

Mr. Hearst says he will take his place in the ranks and continue his fight against corporation evils. It is probable that he will remain in the ranks quite a while before he has another chance to get an important office. It may be that he is one of those who are destined to win fame in the ranks—who make themselves too unpopular fighting the battles of others to get office. If he had an ambition for the Democratic nomination for President in 1908, he has abandoned it. His defeat put him out of the list of candidates for that place. With a record of running 50,000 votes behind his ticket in the pivotal State of New York he couldn't hope to get the nomination for President from the Democratic party. But there is no doubt that he will make his influence felt in the next Presidential contest.

Not every boy can be a rich man or a great man, but every boy can be a gentleman. A boy with gentlemanly manners, who is trusty and honest and does his very best every day, will gain the attention and confidence of men and will be given paying and responsible positions as soon as he is old enough to fill them. Boys like to have fun and a good time. It is right they should. They will never be boys but once; but to have fun is not altogether what they are made for. Boys are of value chiefly to make men, good for something in the world. Character, like a house, must have the right kind of a foundation. The foundation stones of a good character are reverence for God, respect and obedience to parents, deference for old people.

Honest poverty should be respected and not scorned. It was in the homes of the lowly that we oftenest find Christ when upon the earth and in our day it can be truthfully said that we meet Him there oftener than elsewhere.

The Publisher's Claims Sustained

UNITED STATES COURT OF CLAIMS

The Publishers of Webster's International Dictionary allege that it "is, in fact, the popular Unabridged thoroughly re-edited in every detail, and vastly enriched in every part, with the purpose of adapting it to meet the larger and severer requirements of another generation."

We are of the opinion that this allegation most clearly and accurately describes the work that has been accomplished and the result that has been reached. The Dictionary, as it now stands, has been thoroughly re-edited in every detail, has been corrected in every part, and is admirably adapted to meet the larger and severer requirements of a generation which demands more of popular philological knowledge than any generation that the world has ever contained.

It is perhaps needless to add that we refer to the dictionary in our judicial work as of the highest authority in accuracy of definition; and that in the future as in the past it will be the source of constant reference.

WOODEN RAILROADS

THE FIRST CRUDE METHODS USED IN GREAT BRITAIN.

Tracks Were Merely Stout Planks or Maybe Blocks of Stone—The Flange Was Invented Toward the End of the Seventeenth Century.

It is not known with any certainty when the first pair of parallel tracks for wheeled traffic was laid down in Great Britain or whether it was of wood or of stone. Perhaps the former is the more probable, the material being found everywhere and its long shape being much more suggestive of fitness for such a purpose than stone. But so long as each neighborhood produced everything it wanted such things were not needed. At last the destruction of timber near London made the use of coal indispensable. This could only be conveyed by sea, and one of the few places where it could be got with the limited appliances and skill of those days was the valley of the Tyne, just above and below Newcastle. About 300 years ago a considerable trade in coal for shipment began there, which soon led to difficulties as to getting it from the mines into the boats. The distances were small, but the art of roadmaking had died out and in bad weather pack horses could not carry enough to render their use profitable. Some unknown benefactor to his species at last laid down two parallel lines of timber for carts to run on. Probably they were merely stout planks at first, but the sinking at the joints would soon suggest that other planks should be placed under them, the structure then becoming fairly efficient. When flanges, either on the wheels or the rails, were first invented or by whom is not known, but it was apparently toward the end of the seventeenth century.

Those wooden railroads seem to have survived throughout the greater part of the following century, and even into the nineteenth in some cases. The Middleton colliery railroad at Leeds, for instance, was of wood until it was relaid for the use of Blenkinsop's rack rail engines. These were started in 1812 and were unquestionably the first commercially successful locomotives. Many other wooden railroads had existed in the same neighborhood for fifty or sixty years previously, and no doubt in other colliery districts as well. One was laid down near Sheffield, for instance, so early as about 1712 from the Duke of Norfolk's colliery at The Manor into the town, nearly one and one-half miles down hill. It lasted till 1775, when it was destroyed in a riot. Next year it was reconstructed with the first cast iron flanged rails by James Outram, their inventor. A wooden railroad long existed at Bath. It was laid down in 1731 by Ralph Allen, who, having gained a fortune by postoffice contracts, acquired and developed extensive quarries of the celebrated Bath oolite stone on Combe down. These being at a great height and away from any regular mode of transit, it became necessary to devise a means of bringing down such a heavy material. The wooden railroad occupied the site of what is now called Prior Park road and was laid partly upon low walls and partly on the ground, "like the wagon ways belonging to the collieries in the north of England."

The colliery lines about Newcastle used in the eighteenth century rails of beech wood, carefully planed on the top and pegged down to crosspieces, which were even then termed "sleepers." Longitudinal timbers in addition were sometimes used, the extra height being of use in enabling the cross sleepers to be well covered up and protected from the action of the horses' feet. There were usually two lines of rails, the descending one being called the main way, the other the byway.

The cars held a Newcastle chaldron, or fifty-three hundredweight, 5,936 pounds. They were built of fir planks, strengthened with iron straps, and had oak or ash soles. They sloped forward, having slightly larger wheels at that end, which was found to ease the draft. These wheels were of cast iron, the rear pair being made solid of pieces of beech wood dovetailed and clamped together. It was supposed that brakes held better on wood than on iron. Some of these wooden lines ended in a short timber viaduct, where the land sloped much to the river, leading to a shipping quay, from which the coal could either be discharged at once down a chute into the "keel" or barge which carried it to the ships or stored if no keels were at hand. The wagons opened below to effect this.

In going down hill with a loaded wagon the horse followed behind, so that he might not be knocked down if it got beyond control, which is said to have happened rather frequently. The drivers generally owned the horses, often of a miserable description, and were paid by the trip or "gait."—Railroad Gazette.

ZOROASTRIANS OF PERSIA.

They Are a Much Persecuted and Unjustly Judged People.

Zoroaster, the prophet of ancient Iran, arose about the middle of the seventh century before Christ as a reformer of the older creed of Persia, a primitive form of nature worship which had become debased through corruption and crass superstition. His birthplace is believed to have been in the province of Azarbaijan, to the west of the Caspian sea, a region abounding in volcanic mountains, hot springs, naphtha wells and other igneous phenomena. By inheritance he was a member of the sacerdotal tribe of the Magi and by calling a forerunner of the wise men from the east who worshiped centuries later at the cradle in Bethlehem. Inspired by ecstatic visions of heaven and warned by prophetic signs of the terrors of hell, he came to teach his people the ethical meaning of the conflict between good and evil under the form of Ormazd and Ahriman as god and devil. Filled with the hope of an eternal existence after the general resurrection of the dead, he sought to lead his followers to a more spiritual life and to teach them the moral significance of the motto of his faith, "Good thoughts, good words, good deeds," and to guide them also in practical ways, inculcating the practice of agriculture, kindness to animals, especially the cow, habits of thrift and industry, together with those of bodily cleanliness and the observance of certain rites and ceremonies in their daily life. His death is thought to have occurred at Balkh, in eastern Iran, about 583 B. C., during the religious war between Iran and Turan, which was called forth by his teaching.

Zoroaster's creed became the religion of an eastern world empire. The law of the Medes and Persians, which knew no change, molded the history of the early kingdom of Iran, and the same decrees prevailed in Bacteria. It was by Ormazd's will that the sovereign rulers of these lands held sway, kings by divine right. Cyrus the Great is called the Lord's "anointed" and his "shepherd" even in the Bible, and "king by the grace of Auramazda" was Darius' own proud claim. The inscriptions and the Avesta alike exalt the sacred majesty of the king. But many of those who once were kings of Zoroaster's line are now known only by name. Persia is Mohammedan, the Persians are Mussulmans by faith, and Islam has blotted out much of the ancient history and creed. The Zoroastrians of Persia, stigmatized as Gabars, number not more than 10,000 souls. Yezd is the home of about 8,000 of these. Kirman, a smaller city to the southeast, claims about 2,000 more. Teheran, the capital, near where Zoroaster's mother is said to have been born, has less than 300. Shiraz numbers not fifty of the ancient belief. Isfahan a half dozen and some of the minor towns can each add three or four more to make up the talesman's count. Frowned upon as "fire worshipers," which they really are not, despised or persecuted as infidels, surrounded by business restrictions and social disabilities, the "Jews of the east," as they are sometimes called, maintain their lives at high cost. And yet they possess admirable qualities, and it is these characteristics that have preserved their religion from being utterly effaced. Through ages of misfortune and distress they have remained true to it, and by their sterling traits of truth, uprightness, generosity and devotion they still exemplify what was best in it.—A. V. Williams Jackson in Century.

Triplets In China.

In some of the southern provinces of China there is a superstition that if triplets are born one of the three children will eventually become a noted rebel. In order to avoid that direst of Chinese curses, bad son, a "wise man" is sent for in order to decide which of the three children is the destined black sheep. The three infants having been conveyed into a perfectly dark room, the "wise man" takes three pieces of twine, each of a different color, as white, red and black, and, entering the room, ties one of these pieces of string around a wrist of each baby. The one which when brought out into the light is found to have the red string on its wrist is drowned like a puppy.

Orino is more effective than pills or ordinary cathartics. Refuse substitutes. J. W. McCollom & Co.

He begs me to try to find a home for it. I would be glad to hear from anyone who may be interested.

J. H. Hodges, M. D.

A Liberal Offer.

One of the greatest inducements yet offered by any business house in Gainesville for cash trade is the "refund day" to be inaugurated by Saunders & Earle. This firm has been accustomed to giving coupon tickets with every cash purchase. These tickets are all dated the day of purchase, with the amount.

Now, as an inducement, this firm proposes to refund to each and every customer the amount of purchase of a certain day's purchase of each month. Whatever day the firm decides to make the refund day will be advertised, and everyone holding coupons of that date will be allowed to cash the same at their store. Supposing the day decided upon was to be Nov. 8, and you hold a coupon of that date showing that you had made a cash purchase of twenty-five cents, you can get twenty-five cents refunded to you by presenting your ticket at their store.

This is the most liberal inducement ever offered in the city of Gainesville.

If you come in here and buy a Hart Schaffner & Marx suit, consider all the results of the transaction to you. Leave us out of it; assume that we make a fair profit; we do.

But you make a better profit than we do; you get the clothes. You get absolutely honest, all-wool fabrics; clothes you can respect; that you don't have to apologize for or be ashamed of because they're not what they seem.

You get what no "mercerized cotton" clothes could ever give you—long, satisfying service; shape-keeping service; tailoring that fits your ideas and shape; style that's distinctive.

Such clothes preserve and strengthen a man's self-respect; "mercerized cotton" makes a man ashamed to look his clothes in the face; or ought to.
